Dear Mr. Director:

Thank you for your response to our request for information on your inspector general and general counsel organizations and the steps your agency has taken to implement Executive Order 11905. The information supplied has been most helpful.

The Board has determined some of the procedures by which it will fulfill its responsibilities. These procedures have been conveyed in a letter to those individuals in your organizations responsible for reporting to the Board. For your information, a copy of this letter and a list of addressees in your agency are attached.

We look forward to continued cooperation with you.

Very truly yours,

Robert D. Murphy

Dear Mr. Director:

You are probably aware that Executive Order 11905 created the Intelligence Oversight Board and requires it, inter alia, to:

- (i) Receive and consider reports by Inspectors General and General Counsels of the Intelligence Community concerning activities that raise questions of legality or propriety.
- (ii) Review periodically the practices and procedures of the Inspectors General and General Counsels of the Intelligence Community designed to discover and report to the Oversight Board activities that raise questions of legality or propriety.

The order further requires that agency heads in the Intelligence Community "provide for a strong and independent organization for identification and inspection of, and reporting on, unauthorized activity," and "ensure that Inspectors General and General Counsels of their agency have access to any information necessary to perform their duties" with respect to the Intelligence Oversight Board.

It also imposes obligations on inspectors general and general counsels, to:

- (1) Transmit to the Oversight Board reports of any activities that come to their attention that raise questions of legality or propriety....
- (2) Formulate practices and procedures designed to discover and report to the Oversight Board activities that raise questions of legality or propriety.

I would be grateful for your sending to me, by April 23, a description of your agency's inspector general and general counsel organizations and of the steps which you have taken pursuant to your responsibilities under the Executive Order to ensure they are capable of performing the duties outlined above.

The Board is currently formulating procedures for the scheduling and processing of the periodic reports called for in the Executive Order. We will advise your inspector general and general counsel offices of these when they have been completed. In addition to regular quarterly reports, the Order requires general counsels and inspectors general to report immediately to the Board any activities of importance raising serious questions of legality or propriety. Should any such activities come to their attention prior to the issuance of the Board's procedures, they should report the relevant facts to the staff of the Board.

I look forward to working with you and with warm personal regards, believe me

Sincerely yours,

Robert Murphy

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM : Donald F. Chamberlain
Inspector General

SUBJECT : DCI Oversight and Inspection Responsibilities

1. Executive Order 11905 assigned to you certain oversight responsibilities for the Intelligence Community and for CIA. Briefly, the Executive Order directs you to:

a. With respect to the Community: establish procedures that would ensure the propriety of requests from, and responses to, the White House Staff and other Executive departments and agencies; and ensure that all elements of the Community have strong Inspector General capabilities and report to the Intelligence Oversight Board.

b. With respect to CIA: establish internal policies on employee conduct and ensure that they are understood by all employees, provide for a strong and independent organization to investigate and report on unauthorized activities, report to the Intelligence Oversight Board on any questionable activities in CIA, instruct CIA employees to cooperate with the Intelligence Oversight Board, and ensure that CIA's Inspector General and General Counsel have access to any necessary information.

2. To carry out these responsibilities, it is necessary to:

a. Ensure that Intelligence Community components keep you informed regularly as to their inspection capabilities, plans, procedures, personnel, and any restrictions placed on their ability to carry out inspections and investigations.

I-23.1

b. Establish procedures whereby Intelligence Community components keep you promptly informed of investigations of questionable activities; and queries from, or reports to, the Intelligence Oversight Board.

c. Establish procedures whereby Intelligence Community components promptly inform you of any questionable requests from the White House Staff or other Executive departments and agencies.

d. Establish common standards and procedures in the Intelligence Community for the conduct of inspections and investigations by the Inspectors General (where appropriate and consistent with Departmental and Agency authorities and regulations) and coordinate, when appropriate, their activities.

e. Within the CIA, ensure that:

(1) There are specific procedures for handling requests from the White House Staff and other Executive departments and agencies and the reporting of questionable requests to you.

(2) The policies and guidelines governing employee conduct are current and are understood and acknowledged by each employee.

(3) All employees are instructed to cooperate fully with the Intelligence Oversight Board.

(4) Your Inspector General and General Counsel organizations are adequate to meet your oversight responsibilities under this Executive Order and that they are authorized access to all necessary information.

3. To assist you in carrying out your Intelligence Community oversight responsibilities as outlined above, I propose that you establish two mechanisms.

a. Establish a committee of Intelligence Community Inspectors General to be known as the DCI's Community Inspection Committee. This committee would:

(1) Establish common standards and procedures for the conduct of inspections and investigations within the Intelligence Community and reporting to the Intelligence Oversight Board, where appropriate and consistent with Departmental and Agency authorities and regulations.

(2) Prepare a periodic report to the Director of Central Intelligence on the capabilities of the various Inspectors General of the Intelligence Community.

(3) Coordinate, when appropriate, the inspection and investigation activities of the various Inspectors General of the Intelligence Community.

(4) Establish common procedures for the reporting to the Director of Central Intelligence of questionable requests from the White House Staff and other Executive departments and agencies to components of the Intelligence Community.

(5) Conduct inspections and investigations of Intelligence Community-level components, such as the Intelligence Community Staff and the National Intelligence Officer Staff.

The membership of this committee would be determined in consultation with the Intelligence Oversight Board. The chairman of this Committee should be designated by you and should report directly to you. The Executive Secretary for this Committee would be a staff element under the DCI and not have any directly associated CIA responsibilities (see also b. below). I do not envision this Committee as being a major undertaking. Its main value would be in bringing a measure of agreement within the Intelligence Community on oversight standards and procedures.

b. Designate, as a position on your staff, an Assistant to the DCI for Oversight and Inspection Matters who would serve as a point of contact for the Intelligence Oversight Board staff and the Inspectors General of the Intelligence Community. He would receive and review on your behalf copies of requests from the Intelligence Oversight Board to Intelligence Community components, copies of reports from the Intelligence Community components (including their General Counsels and Inspectors General) to the Intelligence Oversight Board, reports from the Community Inspection Committee, and generally keep you informed on oversight matters.* This officer would also serve as the Executive Secretary of the Community Inspection Committee and could have other assignments. The incumbent would serve in a staff capacity only and not have any responsibilities for conducting inspections or investigations.

4. With respect to your oversight responsibilities as the head of CIA, the following steps have been taken:

a. CIA regulations are currently being reviewed and revised to conform with the Executive Order. This includes:

(1) Revising the regulations on restrictions on Agency activities.

(2) Updating the regulations concerning the duties and authorities of the CIA Inspector General and General Counsel and preparing notices to all employees on their role.

*There may be considerable objection on the part of some members of the Community to furnishing this officer, in your name, with copies of their various reports to the Intelligence Oversight Board. I do not see how you can fulfill your oversight responsibilities under the Executive Order unless you have access to copies of these reports.

(3) Drafting a memorandum from you to all employees requiring full cooperation with the Intelligence Oversight Board and,

(4) Revising the Headquarters Handbook which is required regulatory reading by all employees.

b. The Offices of the Inspector General and General Counsel have been substantially enlarged to enable them to carry out their increased oversight responsibilities.

I believe that once these steps are completed, the capabilities, regulations, and procedures within the CIA should be adequate to your oversight responsibilities.

STATINTL

Donald F. Chamberlain
